

POWERING OUR ECONOMY

The Port of St. John's is a strategic transportation hub and a powerful economic engine for Newfoundland and Labrador.

Through its core sectors, the Port supports thousands of jobs and drives hundreds of millions in economic activity each year, across our city, province, and region.

At the centre of trade, industry, and continued innovation, the Port of St. John's generates thousands of jobs, investment, and opportunity across Newfoundland and Labrador.

The latest economic impact study, commissioned by the St. John's Port Authority, demonstrates the benefits of port activities and its users across our city, our province, and our region today and into the future.

Exceptional Services that Connect to the World

The Port of St. John's is the site of the province's primary and most advanced container terminal. We are the primary offshore energy supply and service centre on the East Coast of Canada. We are a key marine transportation supply and service centre and a preferred destination for the international cruise ship industry. And—true to our roots—we remain one of the largest fish-handling ports in the province.
